

Amal Faisal Lari

House 585, Road 2122, Block 721, Jidd Ali, Bahrain

+973 36184666

Amal Faisal@live.com

Date of Birth: 06.11.1987 Nationality: Bahraini Marital Status: Single

Education

Sep 2012- Sep 2013

University of Leeds, Leeds, United Kingdom
LLM in International Business Law (Pass with Merits)

Main subjects:

- Corporate Law: It is mainly about the structure of the corporation and its characteristics including the legal personality, the limited liability and the management.
- Insolvency law: Exploring issues relating to the principles of insolvency law as they related to companies and examines the issue of liquidation, distribution of assets \, liability of directors on insolvency.
- International Corporate Governance: It involves the governance of the company, the role and duties of the corporate managers and the goal of corporate activities and the interests in which corporation should be run. It also discusses the role of the gatekeepers in the corporate governance.
- Consumer law: Involves the regulations of the consumer markets, and cover the areas of the consumer vulnerability, consumer credit law, supply of goods and services, product safety and consumer redress and access to justice.
- International Banking :the Regulatory Framework: The subject emphasis on protecting the financial stability nationally and globally by focusing on the rules of lender of last resort, the depositors protection schemes and the role of central banks in supervising the banking system in a country.
- International Banking: Capital Markets and Loans: It defines the capital markets and discusses the rules of loans, syndicated loans and bonds.
- Securities regulations: It examines the regulations designed to protect investors and ensure that capital markets are fair, efficient and transparent. It also covers the issues of market abuse and insider dealing.
- Dissertation: My dissertation is about the necessity of regulating the OTC derivatives. It defines the meaning of derivatives, focusing on the OTC derivatives and its impacts on the recent financial crisis. It also discusses the need to regulate the OTC derivatives by imposing rules related to reporting requirements and central counterparty system.

Sep 2005- June 2010

University of Bahrain, Bahrain
BSc. Law, (Honour degree, GPA 3.88)

Main subjects: Civil law, Criminal law, employment law, Commercial law, Companies law, and the law of financial institutions.

My bachelor studies enhanced my abilities in law by providing a solid foundation on all aspects of law.

Professional Certificates

Jan 2015 – present Arbitration

Currently, I am taking the course of Arbitration which is provided by the GCC Arbitration Centre in Bahrain. Finishing this course will enable me to be a qualified arbitrator in the GCC Arbitration Centre.

Feb - May 2014 International Introduction to Securities & Investments ISII

This certificate is issued from The Chartered Institute for Securities & Investment (CISI) based in London, UK. The lessons are run by Bahrain Institute of Banking and Finance (BIBF). The course covered the main subjects of the financial market, shares, bonds, derivatives and other financial products. It included also the role of investment funds and the importance of regulating the financial markets and its products.

Work Experience

May 2015 – present Lawyer, Nezar Raees Associates, Bahrain

My main responsibilities are to attend the hearings and drafting memorandums and legal opinions related to different legal matters.

Oct 2013-April 2015 Lawyer, Zeenat Al Mansoori& Associates, Bahrain

My main tasks including drafting legal opinions, defense memorandums and claim statement in all aspects of law, focusing on commercial and companies law, banking and finance law and employment law.

Sep 2011-Sep 2012 Lawyer, Jalila Al Sayed Law Office, Bahrain

During my work in Jalila Al Sayed law office, I have enhanced my abilities in drafting the defense replies and claim statements in various aspect of law including commercial law, companies law, civil law, leasing, employment law, construction and telecommunication. I had to leave Jalila Al Sayed law office to complete my master degree in University of Leeds.

July 2010- Sep 2011 Lawyer, Al Oraibi and Al Mullah Law Office, Bahrain

This was my very experience in the law practise field. It taught me how the rules and regulations functions in the real life. My tasks included drafting defense memorandums and statements and attending the hearings before the court and interrogation sessions before the public prosecution.

Additional Skills

- Languages: Arabic (mother tongue), English (Excellent)
- I am Hardworking honest and fast learner, working as lawyer and handling the tasks of writing memorandums and drafting opinions have improved my legal research and taught me how to be a reliable person who can work under pressure to meet deadlines. Also, meeting with the clients and dealing with the court's officials have developed my communication skills.

Interest

- Reading: I like to read everything related to the law in general and the business law in particular. This has helped me in enhancing my legal knowledge and my abilities in practicing law.

References

Available on request